Hopkins School Bond election recount certifies dead tie

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

On May 27, the Allegan County Board of Canvassers conducted a hand recount of votes cast in the May 5 Hopkins Public Schools bond election and certified the results as an exact tie, leaving the $110.56 million bond proposal without the majority approval needed to move forward.

The Hopkins School Board requested a recount to ensure all votes were counted after the original canvass produced one of the rarest outcomes possible in an election — an exact deadlock between supporters and opponents of the proposal. Following a review of the ballots, canvassers determined the results remained unchanged. 1091 votes yes to 1091 votes no, across six precincts.

"While I am grateful that those who doubt election results have the opportunity under the law to petition for a recount, I feel that these results once again show that in Allegan County, our local clerks, election inspectors, and tabulators do an amazing job of working for accurate election results," stated Allegan County Clerk Bob Genetski.

The proposal represented the largest school bond request in Allegan County history. District officials said the funding would have supported a variety of projects, including construction of a new middle school, safety and security improvements, facility renovations, technology upgrades, transportation purchases, and athletic facility improvements.

In the months leading up to the election, Hopkins Public Schools conducted an extensive informational campaign that included community forums, mailed literature, social media outreach, and presentations designed to explain the proposal to voters. District leaders argued the bond would address aging facilities, improve student safety, and modernize school buildings while maintaining a tax rate comparable to what residents were already paying.

Supporters maintained that the proposal would position the district for future growth and provide long-term improvements for students. Opponents, however, questioned both the size and scope of the request.

A grassroots opposition campaign focused heavily on the proposal's long-term tax implications. Critics argued that existing school debt millage rates are scheduled to decline significantly over the coming years, eventually dropping to zero, and contended that approval of the bond would have extended debt payments for another 26 years. Estimates circulated showing that a homeowner with a taxable value of $150,000 could pay approximately $62,036 in school debt taxes over the next 26 years if the proposal passed, compared with about $7,272 if existing debt millages were allowed to expire.

Questions surrounding the need for a new middle school also became a focal point. Critics argued that more information was needed regarding the building's condition, expected lifespan, and the cost of renovation versus replacement. Some residents suggested a smaller proposal focused on immediate facility needs might have received broader support.

The campaign unfolded against a backdrop of continued concerns about inflation, housing affordability, and rising property taxes, issues that both supporters and opponents acknowledged were weighing heavily on voters.

With the recount now complete and the tie officially certified, the bond proposal remains unsuccessful. School officials have not yet announced what steps, if any, they may take regarding future facility plans or a possible return to voters with a revised proposal.

Paw Paw mother delivers baby in Allegan church parking lot

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

While EMS crews were delayed by traffic, a baby boy made his grand entrance into the world in the backseat of his family's SUV, parked in the lot of an Allegan-area church.

According to his mother, Jaimy Piper of Paw Paw, that was not exactly the plan.

Piper was on her way to Holland Hospital, traveling north on M-40, when it became apparent that her baby was not going to wait.

She and her family pulled into the parking lot of Corner Bible Church at the intersection of M-40 and M-89 and called 911. An ambulance and other first responders were dispatched to the scene, but all became delayed behind a slow-moving tractor.

A firefighter with the Hamilton Fire Department was the first to arrive. However, as soon as he opened the door of the family's Chevy Traverse, he realized he needed to act quickly. The delivery was already well underway in the backseat, and the boy's head had already begun to emerge.

With the firefighter's assistance, Everett Sumerix was born on May 22, weighing 10 pounds, 9 ounces, with all 10 fingers and 10 toes.

Despite the unexpected circumstances, the family eventually made it to Holland Hospital, and Everett is now a healthy newborn.

As Piper later told Fox 17, the experience was something she could have "never actually imagined." She also said she thinks "it'd be cool if he grew up wanting to be a firefighter."

Bridgefest 2026 kicks off Downtown Allegan's summer

By Gari Voss

Allegan residents and visitors look forward to Bridgefest on the second Saturday of each June. This year on June 13, 2026, from 11am to 9pm, the streets and Riverfront of Allegan will send out festive vibes as area organizations set up booths and provide activities for kids and adults. Most of the day's festivities will begin at 11am and Justice Hill and Nightime Love will bring the day to a close at 9pm.

The "booths" are one of the changes made for 2026. "The main difference is that the Allegan Area Chamber of Commerce is coordinating the Bridgefest Expo (formerly the community tents)," explained Taylor Bentley,

The 1st Bridgefest Miss Allegan Competition

By Gari Voss

Attention all girls between the ages of 14 (by June 1st) and 18, and will be a high school student in the fall of 2026. Bridgefest has added a new event just for you. The idea began with Ashlyyn Pullen who wanted to promote Allegan while giving young people a voice. That voice allows you to share your ideas with a larger audience.

"Join us for a magical day of competition," encourages Ashlyyn Pullen. "Share your mission, talent, and poise during interviews."

The competition will have several phases.

First, you must register. You can get your registration form by texting 269 650-0860.

Second, complete the form which will ask you to select a Mission Statement. That statement will include what you would like to see in Allegan. That change will improve Allegan to make it better. Also, choose a talent that makes you unique - a song (instrumental or vocal), a dance, a comedy sketch, a poem, whatever you choose that will set you apart from the other contestants.

Next, you will send your completed form to Ashlyyn with a $15 entry fee.

Then the work begins as you create a presentation that will demonstrate to the judges the importance of your change for the City of Allegan. You may wish to create a single visual that can be shown while you give your presentation. You must be ready to share your talent.

On Saturday, June 13th, you will arrive at the Griswold Auditorium at 8:30am to dress and make final preparations for your presentation and talent. It is important to dress nicely, present yourself well, and be thoughtful of others.

About 10am, the Mission Presentations will begin in front of the judges. These will be followed by the Talent Performance.

After the Talent Performance, the judges will ask each contestant a five question interview. The responses during this interview will be considered along with your presentation and talent.

When all contestants have completed the three segments of the pageant, the judges will retire and choose their top five selections.

At 6pm, the top five candidates will go to the Riverfront Stage. At this point, the judges will pose one more question to each finalist. From the responses to this final question, Miss Allegan will be chosen.

West Michigan youth earns statewide recognition

By Gari Voss & Adam Russo

Students participating in the Jobs for Michigan's Graduates (JMG) program through the West Michigan Works! Ascend program were recognized for leadership, career readiness and workforce development skills during Youth Solutions' statewide Career Development Conference on April 30 at Saginaw Valley State University. The award honors active JMG participants who demonstrate extraordinary commitment to the program and their personal goals.

Skye Hess of the Allegan County Service Center was recognized as a JMG Exemplary Youth of the Year, an honor awarded to 10 outstanding participants – one from each of Michigan's Prosperity Regions. The West Michigan Prosperity Alliance includes Allegan, Barry, Ionia, Kent, Lake, Mason, Mecosta, Montcalm, Muskegon, Newaygo, Oceana, Osceola and Ottawa counties.

After facing significant personal and financial hardships during high school, including the loss of her grandmother and her mother's job, Hess decided to pursue her GED with support from the JMG program and career coaches at West Michigan Works! Allegan County Service Center.

Through mentorship and career development guidance, she completed her GED, discovered a passion for education and enrolled at Kalamazoo Valley Community College with plans to become a high school teacher. While balancing work and continued involvement with JMG, Hess was recognized for her resilience, leadership and commitment to building a brighter future.

"I really hadn't realized how much I had accomplished in the past year. My career coach brought it into perspective, stating that many people only accomplish one of those events in a year," said Hess. "The Ascend program and JMG, helped me have purpose and gave me a list of goals I now know I can accomplish."

"We are committed to helping young people build confidence, develop career readiness skills and connect to meaningful educational and employment opportunities," said Chad Patton, Director of Development and Innovation, West Michigan Works!. "Watching these young people step outside their comfort zones and earn recognition at the state level is incredibly rewarding."

Free circus, home tour and more fill the calendar in Fennville

Fennville residents have plenty to choose from in the days ahead, with a traveling circus performing downtown, three local homes featured on a regional tour, an artisan market, live music at the vineyards, and a full slate of programming at the library. From Thursday, June 4 through Monday, June 8, here's a look at what's happening around town.

A Free Show Under the Big Top

The Medieval Circus Spectacle wraps up its three-day visit to Fennville this Thursday, June 4, with a 6 p.m. performance at 203 W. Main St. — the final of three nightly shows running June 2-4.

Presented by The Kingdom of Wonders, the family-friendly show promises an evening of jaw-dropping spectacle for all ages. And the best part for families looking to fill a Thursday evening: admission is 100 percent free, hosted by the city of Fennville.

While there's no cost to attend, organizers ask audiences to book ahead at www.TheKingdomOfWonders.com , since space at each performance is limited. The downtown location and 6 p.m. start time make it an easy stop for families before dinner in town.

Three Fennville Homes on the Parade Tour

The Lakeshore Parade of Homes opens its first of two weekends Thursday, June 4, with three homes in the Fennville (49408) zip code among the stops. The event runs Thursday through Saturday, June 4-6, then again June 11-13, with all homes open from noon to 8 p.m. daily.

Hosted by the Lakeshore Home Builders Association, the tour spans new builds from Muskegon to Fennville, giving visitors a look at the area's latest finishes, floor plans, and outdoor spaces. Visitors create their own route, start at any home on the list, and a single ticket covers the entire two-weekend event.

Tickets are $10 at any Lake Michigan Credit Union location through June 13, or $15 online and at the homes during the event. Children 12 and under are free. The full home list, directions, and online sales are available at www.lakeshoreparadeofhomes.com and www.lakeshorehba.ludus.com .

Music in the Vineyards Returns

Just outside town, Fenn Valley Vineyards is back into its summer rhythm with Music in the Vineyards, the winery's free weekly concert series that runs every Thursday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and every Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. through early October.

Thursday, June 4 features the Atomic Annie Duo under the trellises. On Saturday afternoon, June 6, Down River Dan takes over for a relaxed afternoon set. Both performances are weather-permitting and free to attend, with wine, cider, and small bites available for purchase. Guests are welcome to bring lawn chairs and blankets; outside food is welcome, but no outside alcohol is allowed. Fenn Valley is located at 6130 122nd Ave in Fennville,

Artisan and Craft Market Friday

Looking for something different on Friday? The Fennville Area Artisan and Craft Vendors Market sets up at Orchard Hills Village 2400 56th St, Fennville, MI, United States, 49408 on Friday, June 5 from 4-7PM, hosted by Jennifer Clapp Burnett and organized through the Fennville Area Artisan and Craft Vendors group.

The weekly market features a rotating lineup of local makers and a good variety of products from week to week. Organizers describe it as a chance to "come and shop, enjoy family time, and get out of the house" — a relaxed afternoon setting for browsing handmade goods and supporting local artisans.

At the Library: Art Club and a Summer Reading Carnival

The Fennville District Library has events bookending the long weekend, starting Thursday and finishing Monday.

For families with school-age kids, the library hosts Art Club on Thursday, June 4 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Each session features a different art project, and the program is open to all ages — "fun for the whole family," according to library staff. The library is located at 400 W. Main St.

Then on Monday, June 8, the library kicks off summer reading with a full-day carnival. The "Unearth a Story" Summer Reading Kick-Off Carnival runs from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., with dinosaur-themed games, crafts, and activities filling the day. Families can sign up for the Summer Reading Challenge and enjoy a Dinosaur Walk Scavenger Hunt, Hunting for Dino Ducks, Feed the T-Rex Bowling, Tricera-Toss, Dinosaur Bingo, crafts, a temporary tattoo booth, and sweet treats.

Running alongside the carnival, the Fennville Friends of the Library Bag Book Sale runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. — a chance to fill a bag with discounted titles and support the library at the same time.

Looking Ahead

With the Parade of Homes continuing into the following weekend and Fenn Valley's Music in the Vineyards running weekly all summer, there's plenty more to come. For families planning ahead, the Fourth Friday in Fennville series picks up June 26.

For now, the circus tents come down, the homes open up, and Fennville's slate of family-friendly events makes for a memorable kickoff to summer in West Michigan.

Allegan patrons enjoy busy weekend

By Gari Voss

May went out with wonderful events for the City of Allegan. From Thursday through Sunday, the weather was fantastic and the offerings even better!

El Jaripeo 2 Grand Opening

Thursday, May 28, 2026, the flavors of Mexico filled ears and stomachs as El Jaripeo 2 held is official Ribbon Cutting and Grand Opening at their 110 Hubbard Street location.

As the hosts explained, "The doors are open, the grills are hot, and the margaritas are flowing. We're beyond excited to finally serve the Allegan community with authentic Mexican food, great drinks, and an atmosphere made for celebrating. Come experience your new favorite Mexican restaurant today — bring your friends, family, and appetite."

Not only did El Jaripeo 2 furnish a wonderful Mexican cuisine, the live Mariachi Music created the real atmosphere of Mexico. From the Ribbon Cutting to the entrees and margaritas to sitting back and enjoying the ambiance, El Jaripeo 2's Grand Opening brought customers who had waited almost patiently for the renovations to be complete and the doors to open.

The chefs and wait staff felt the community support and shared, "If you couldn't make it out tonight [Thursday], don't worry! The doors are officially open, and we can't wait to share great food, good music, and even better memories with you all summer long."

Kitten and the Tonics Album Celebration

Kitten and Tonics introduced music from their first album "Get Lost" on Friday, May 29, 2026. The Allegan Eagles Post at 110 Chestnut Street opened their doors to the public so all could enjoy the wonderful music, beverages, and cake.

The Release Party was a fantastic opportunity to enjoy the Kitten and the Tonics trio of Stephanie Redmon (Kitten) on upright bass, Charlie Redmon on lead guitar, and Jacob Truitt on drums. This is the trio that produced "Get Lost". Add to the trio Diego Mor who offered wonderful vocals that at times made you think of Elvis. Also, a jam session at the Eagles would not be complete without a bit of Jack Dailey lending his vocals and guitar.

Kitten and the Tonics have a unique style that has been in demand across the Midwest. Their first EPs (extended plays) – "Painkiller", "Alarmium", and "Cat Fight" were well received which led the group to move forward with "Get Lost" that highlights their "new" vintage sound produced using vintage analog equipment.

As the House of Tabu explained, "This extended play record features four new and exciting tracks, which take listeners on a journey of Kitten Redmon's upright bass interwoven with Charley Redmon's wild take on surf guitar, backed by Jacob Truitt's tempo-steady backbeat."

If you missed Kitten and the Tonics at the Allegan Eagles, you can catch them on June 5th at The Groovin' Grove in South Haven or on June 12th at Wally's in Saugatuck.

Eccentric Garden turns three

Saturday, May 30, 2026, Eccentric Garden kept the festivities going with its Third Birthday Bash at their 136 Brady Street store. Customers found wonderful plants plus other artisan and craft items. For those who made a purchase, an entry ticket was added to the Plant-Away Basket that held a 36 inch moss pole, Massive Philodendron Green Congo Nuclear, Super Boost plant food, and a bag of their soil mix, with all wrapped in a 14-inch pot with saucer.

"At the end of the day, I just felt so overjoyed by the support of the amazing community we have built in Allegan," reflected Lacey Schmitt, owner of Eccentric Garden.

Eccentric Garden will have a busy summer with Bridgefest, Sidewalk Sales, and the weekly concerts on the Riverfront. Schmitt shared that she will continue to hold Plant Bingo during the summer months.

Oakwood Cemetery Living History Tour

On the evenings of Friday, May 29th and Saturday, May 30th, attention was given to the wonderfully unique residents of Oakwood Cemetery. The Friends of Oakwood Cemetery held their 13th Annual Oakwood Cemetery Living History Tour. Five very fine residents of Allegan were brought to life to tell their stories. The theme for this year's production was "Immigrants", and those portrayed enhanced the Allegan of their times.

Thelma Kasprzyk was the most recent member of the group. Thelma was born April 2, 1933, in Huddersfield, England and immigrated to the United States where she met and married Tadeusz (Ted) Kasprzyk, also an immigrant, in 1952. Though they originally lived in Chicago, after spending weekends in Allegan, they decided to move to Allegan where Ted opened Ted's Auto Body. Thelma passed on April 10, 2017, at the age of 84. Emma Brookhouse did a wonderful portrayal of Thelma using the script written by Amanda Strickfaden.

Althea Cook was the next immigrant introduced. In December 1842, Althea was the eighth child born to Mannes and Diena Kok in the Netherlands. The family emigrated to the United States through New York City in 1851 and moved to Overisel, Michigan. Althea married Henry Cook in 1860. They raised four children before Althea died on May 2, 1928. Anne Hodge did a regal portrayal of Althea using the script she had written.

A walk through the cemetery found Charles Lelsle. Lelsle was born on May 19, 1830, in Paris, France, and at age of four, moved to his grandparents' in Edinburgh, Scotland. Charles apprenticed as a baker. When he came to the United States at the age of 27, he enlisted in the 9th Ohio Light Artillery during the Civil War and ended up feeding the soldiers. In 1865, he married Camilla Barnes, and they settled in Allegan where he owned a bakery. He died on October 9, 1896. Xavier Lelsle did a marvelous job sharing Lelsle's story that was written by Amanda Strickfaden.

Kitten and the Tonics celebrated the release of their first album, "Get Lost", at the Allegan Eagles on Fri., May 29th. The trio invited vocalist Diego Mor to join some sets and Jack Dailey to add some of his fine guitar and vocals. Engelbert Born was born on April 17, 1833, in Lindenholzhausen, Germany. At the age of 16, he immigrated to the United States through New Orleans. He settled in Chicago where he learned to make wagons. After working for N.B. West of Allegan, he started his own wagon making business. He married Mary Dickinson in 1855, and they had six children. After Mary passed, Engelbert married Margaret Waddell in 1880. Because of fires, Born had to rebuild his business several times. He died on October 21, 1909, at the age of 76. German accent and all, Spike Kunetz did a marvelous portrayal of Engelbert Born using the script he wrote.

James Caskey was born on January 7, 1822, in Glasgow, Scotland and immigrated through New York City in 1832. Caskey married Lucy Moon in New York in 1842. When the Caskeys moved to Allegan, he started a tannery on the north side of Allegan. Caskey shared much of the successes of his 10 children of whom he was very proud. Two ended up on Mackinaw Island and were known for their workmanship on the Grand Hotel. Caskey died on April 21, 1904, in Harbor Springs where several of his children had settled. Parker Johnson portrayed Caskey in his later years as he shared the story written by Amanda Strickfaden.

The Friends of Oakwood Cemetery wanted to thank the sponsors Tibbitts Financial Consulting, Allegan Area Arts Council, Waanders Concrete Co., Allegan Eye Care, Sherwood's Cove, the Lyons International, Ric & Stan's Car Wash, Gorden Funeral Residence, Hartman & Ellis Agency, Bartz & Rummery Agency, Sons of the Union Veterans of the Civil War, and Allegan U-Stor. A special thank you goes to the City of Allegan for ticket sales, the Allegan Masonic Lodge for chairs, and the actors, actresses, tour guides and ladies in mourning whose performances made the evenings special. Finally, thanks to all who came to enjoy the stories of the men and women of Allegan's past.

The weekend just chugged into Sunday when the first Allegan Antique Fair of the season rolled onto the Allegan County Fairgrounds. The grounds were packed from north to south and east to west with vendors in tents, open areas, the Pavilion, and the Industrial Buildings. Everything from antiques to tools to toys to memorabilia and more could be found by the discerning shopper.

PROTECT OUR WATERWAYS:
KEEP ITEMS OUT OF STORM DRAINS
WHAT IS THE PURPOSE & IMPORTANCE OF A STORM DRAIN?

Storm drains are an important feature within your community because during heavy rainstorms, the drains reduce flooding in streets and neighborhoods by transporting large volumes of water into rivers quickly. Filters are not installed in the drains because they would delay the passage of water. Therefore, whatever goes down storm drains will end up in your waterways (rivers, streams, lakes, creeks and oceans).

TIPS TO PROTECT OUR STORM DRAINS

DID YOU KNOW.....
One quart of oil can pollute 250,000 gallons of drinking water—enough water to supply a family of four for one year!

STORM DRAINS ARE FOR RAINWATER ONLY!

DUMP NO WASTE
DRAINS TO RIVER
Graphic: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

✓ Keep garbage out of storm drains. Put litter in trash cans and dispose of toxic substances properly.
✓ Use a broom, not a hose to clean spills.
✓ Grass clippings clog storm drains and cause water to back up onto the streets. Sweep clippings back on your lawn.
✓ Never fertilize before it rains. When it rains, the fertilizer goes into storm drains and causes problems.
✓ Landscape to retain rain water.
→ Create small berms and depressions in your garden to hold rain water.
→ Border your lawn with deep-rooted flowers and shrubs that soak up water and reduce runoff.
✓ Landscape to prevent soil erosion.
✓ Pick up after your pet. Double bag the waste and put it in the trash (if your community allows) or flush it.

Time to Abolish MEDC

MIKE WILCOX
■ PUBLISHER ■

For decades, politicians from both parties have defended the Michigan Economic Development Corporation with the same promise: targeted incentives and subsidies will attract jobs, revive communities, and create prosperity. It sounds appealing. If government can selectively help businesses expand, why not use that power to strengthen the state's economy?

The problem is that after years of experiments and billions in incentives, taxpayers should ask a simple question: why are we still relying on this model?

Consider the Fay Beydoun case. Beydoun, who served on MEDC's executive committee, was connected to a $20 million state grant for Global Link International that was administered through the state's economic development apparatus. Investigators later alleged that grant funds intended for economic development were diverted to personal expenses and unrelated spending. Prosecutors have alleged forged documentation, improper expenditures, and false reporting, while the attorney general described the process as one with minimal oversight and unusual political connections.

Then there is the Clare Complete Health Park project. A project that many of our readers in Mid-Michigan are very familiar with. A $25 million earmark for a health and recreation complex was awarded to a nonprofit created shortly before funding was approved. State officials later suspended payments after identifying red flags, including allegations involving self-dealing and undisclosed financial relationships. The founder, Clare native Dave Coker now faces felony charges related to the handling of grant money.

These examples involve different people, different regions, and different political circles. One grew from Detroit-area business networks; another emerged from legislative relationships in rural Michigan. Yet they raise the same question: why does Michigan continue relying on systems where politically connected projects can receive tens of millions of taxpayer dollars before basic warning signs are detected?

The issue is larger than any individual scandal. It is whether government should continue operating an economic development model that concentrates public money, discretion, and influence in ways that can reward access rather than results.

The MEDC represents a philosophy of economic development that assumes government officials can identify tomorrow's winners and steer public money toward them. But economies rarely work that way. Growth is usually driven by entrepreneurs, workers, small businesses, and market demand—not by state agencies deciding which companies deserve special treatment.

Programs built around tax credits, grants, and incentives create an uneven playing field. Large corporations with lobbyists and political connections often have advantages in navigating these systems, while small businesses operating on Main Streets across Michigan receive little benefit. The local manufacturer with twenty employees does not have a team of consultants pursuing state incentives. The family-owned restaurant, contractor, or startup often pays taxes that help fund benefits awarded elsewhere.

There is also a fairness question. Government should create rules that apply equally to everyone, not distribute selective advantages. When one company receives subsidies, every other business effectively competes against a rival backed by public resources.

Supporters argue that without these incentives, Michigan would lose jobs to other states. But that raises a larger issue: if every state competes by offering bigger subsidies, taxpayers end up financing a race where corporations hold the leverage and governments write the checks. The result is often less like economic development and more like a bidding war.

Imagine redirecting that energy and money toward broad improvements that benefit everyone: lower taxes, better roads, stronger schools, workforce development, and streamlined regulations. Those investments do not depend on predicting which companies will succeed. They create conditions where all businesses can grow.

Abolishing MEDC would not mean abandoning economic development. It would mean redefining it. Government's role should be to build a stable foundation, not pick winners and losers.

Michigan's future economy will not be engineered from conference rooms and incentive packages. It will be built by people taking risks, creating businesses, hiring workers, and investing in their communities.

The state should trust them to do it.

Consider the Fay Beydoun case. Beydoun, who served on MEDC's executive committee, was connected to a $20 million state grant for Global Link International that was administered through the state's economic development apparatus. Investigators later alleged that grant funds intended for economic development were diverted to personal expenses and unrelated spending. Prosecutors have alleged forged documentation, improper expenditures, and false reporting, while the attorney general described the process as one with minimal oversight and unusual political connections.

Then there is the Clare Complete Health Park project. A $25 million earmark for a health and recreation complex was awarded to a nonprofit created shortly before funding was approved. State officials later suspended payments after identifying red flags, including allegations involving self-dealing and undisclosed financial relationships. The founder now faces felony charges related to the handling of grant money, and investigators recovered millions of dollars in unused taxpayer funds.

These examples involve different people, different regions, and different political circles. One grew from Detroit-area business networks; another emerged from legislative relationships in rural Michigan. Yet they raise the same question: why does Michigan continue relying on systems where politically connected projects can receive tens of millions of taxpayer dollars before basic warning signs are detected?

The issue is larger than any individual scandal. It is whether government should continue operating an economic development model that concentrates public money, discretion, and influence in ways that can reward access rather than results.

Life as Performance Art

G CORWIN STOPPEL

I always find it a bit amusing when someone, especially one of the talking heads from almost any news station has a hissy fit about what they call 'revisionist history.' They change their tone of voice to make it sound like something salacious, wicked, and morally wrong. Of course, in today's cultural climate, politics seems to work its way into this discussion. Those two words, revisionist history' have an odious smell about them, and always a bad reputation.

The truth of the matter is you and I do it all the time. So did our parents. With each retelling of their history, they might pad their high school or college test score a little or create a fib as to why they did not get into their first choice of school or their first job. My aunts all re-invented their weight; one went so far as to shave a few years off her age by having the wrong birth year carved into her tombstone. When it came to money and their investments, or their athletic ability in their youth, the uncles told the same, sometimes expanded stories so many times, after a while they came to believe them.

Long story short, we all do it to a greater or lesser extent, the better to position is in the world. Most of us don't think there is any great harm or wickedness in it. We just do not want to get caught.

We are not the only ones doing it. Fiction writers, playwrights, and the movies all engage in the same fabrications. It is best summed up in one of the last scenes in the "Man Who Shot Liberty Valance." An older Jimmy Stewart is telling a news reporter about the end of Valance, the town bully. Everyone thought he had shot the bad guy, but the truth was John Wayne pulled the trigger. In turn, Stewart used the favorable notoriety to propel himself up the political ranks until he was elected the Vice President.

When Stewart was finished talking, the reporter folded up his notebook and said, "When the story is better than the truth, print the story." The movies have been creating an image rather than telling the truth since Thomas Edison hired Bronco Billy Anderson to star in the 1903 film, The Great Train Robbery.

According to the movies, every man in the Old West is carrying a pistol. That was far from the truth. Most of the young men who participated in the cattle drives could never afford a pistol and the bullets. Farmers didn't want them; they preferred a shotgun. There are only two show-downs on Main Street. One was with Wild Bill Hickok, and the other at the OK Corral.

Or, there are the exciting scenes where the wagon train is under attack, and the wagon master orders them to circle the wagons. Never happened. The very unglamorous truth is that far more people died of disease than anything else.

The same sort of prevarication usually takes place with war movies, gangster films, and many others.

We don't cry 'foul!' when it is a movie. We buy our tickets, pay for over-priced popcorn and watered down pop to be entertained, not take a history lesson.

There is where the problem arises. Next to the Bible, Koran, and Torah, and other religious texts, few things seem to be as sacred as history. That is especially true when it is our national history. Almost instantly, we revert back to whatever we learned in elementary school. That includes fact, myth, legend and complete falsehoods.

For example, we all remember the ditty: "In 1492, Columbus sailed the ocean blue," and how he 'discovered' America. The errors abound: He did not land in America, he did not truly discover anything because the Native Americans were already here, and the only reason he landed on a Caribbean Island was because he was lost. As for a flat earth, people already knew it was round, and European exploration began centuries earlier when the Vikings or Norsemen, landed in Newfoundland and Nova Scotia.

The story about young George Washington being reprimanded by his father for cutting down a cherry tree? Phony. It was a much later written myth to emphasize how he was an honest man.

Later, the Battle of Bunker Hill didn't take place there. It was one hill over, on Breeds Hill. Nor did Colonel Teddy Roosevelt lead the charge up San Juan Hill. He and his Rough Riders were a hill over on Kettle Hill. By the time he led his men over to San Juan Hill, Pershing and his Buffalo Soldiers were already there. The story was changed to fit into the racism of the era.

You get the general idea: A story is told and it gets set into our minds, and before long is understood to be absolute truth. Later, when someone challenges an old belief there is a very good possibility others will be angered. They will reject it and then claim it is nothing but 'revisionist history' which the other political party is using to destroy America.

Revisionist history has also shifted the emphasis on what is included or excluded. For centuries, historians have written about political and military leaders and sometimes included a handful of very wealthy and powerful individuals. For example, countless books have been written about men such as JP Morgan or Thomas Edison. The employees or the people who worked in research and development, The Help' as they known, or on the factory floor were all but forgotten.

More recently, the working stiffs have been included, and rightfully so. Today, historians such as William Manchester and David McCullough, tell the story of the common man or woman, and not just a handful of leading lights.

We need to carefully and explore our history because sometimes mistakes were made, got into print, and were completely wrong. In computer-ese, "Garbage in; garbage out."

For years there was a spooky and very elderly woman who worked in the attic of the museum in Rochester, Minnesota. Her job was to go through the early newspapers, stop at every name and story, put a three-by-five card in her Remington typewriter, and record the information. It was slow going, but at the end of the day she took all of her newly typed cards and put them in a library file drawer.

She started with the drawer on the upper right hand of the cabinet, and when it was full, moved to the drawer immediately to the left. When she got to the end of the top row, she moved down and began on the left drawer and worked right.

That was her system, but I dare anyone to sort out the mess she created.

When the historical society purchased the Stoppel Homestead, they told and retold the stories of their early pioneer years, sometimes using the file cards. More often, they engaged in some creative writing and editing as they told the story. The other night I was rereading some of this history when I realized that Marie (wife of FJ) and Eva (wife of George) are almost completely absent. We know they existed, but there was almost nothing about their contribution to their family and community. In short, a big chunk of local history, left out. One of these days, soon I hope, the project will be revised.

As Abigail Adams wrote to her husband John, right when he, Tom, and Ben were writing the Declaration of Independence, "Don't forget the women!"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Trump lies to farmers

Editor,

"I think the farmers are going to be very happy"! Trump crowed on his return from China where he had hoped to get help getting unstuck from the Iran tar baby he needlessly poked three months ago.

He didn't get that but what he thought he got was a commitment from China to buy more row crops in the coming year.

Personally, I think it's way beyond time for him to stop screwing the agriculture industry.

Was it not enough for him to send China to Brazil instead of us to buy soybeans because of his ill advised tariff war earlier in the year?

Was it not enough for him to start a Middle East war (something he said he would never do)which increased the costs of fertilizer and fuel for this year's planting?

His own intelligence community didn't believe Iran was "weeks away" from attaining a nuclear bomb.

Tellingly, the Chinese didn't confirm his assertion that they would buy more agricultural products from us this year and it's worth noting that they made a similar pledge in his first term and then didn't follow through.

At this point, anyone involved in farming needs to ask themselves: When has Trump ever lied?

And: Is he lying to me now?

David Ohmart

Important to vote to take back our country

Dear Editor:

President Trump has some prominent supporters in the entertainment industry, including Sylvester Stallone and Micki Minaj, but many more have shunned him.

Taylor Swift, Robert De Niro, Billie Eilish, and Bruce Springsteen are among those condemning Trump, while Elton John, Kenny Loggins, and others have objected to their music being used for Trump rallies or Trump videos. After the president ousted the leadership last year at the Kennedy Center and had his own name placed on the building's facade, numerous artists, including Bela Fleck, Renee Fleming, and Issa Rae, called off scheduled appearances.

We must all vote in upcoming elections to help take our Country back. Voting will stop the present direction our Country is taking and "try" to represent our Country's true destination. We still have a constitution, no matter how the present administration refuses to follow it. We may disagree on policies, but almost everyone wants our representatives to represent us and our Constitution.

The Courts have just ordered that the Trump name be removed from the Kennedy Center within two weeks. We will wait to see what is going to happen next.

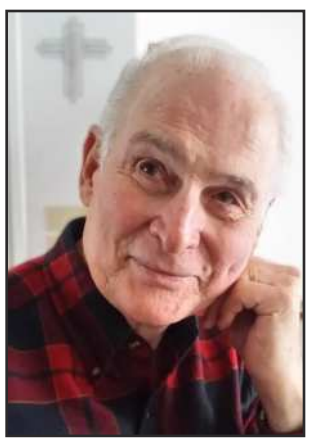
Obituaries

Edward Garvin

Edward Garvin passed away on January 1st of this year following a lengthy convalescence and sudden illness. His family will host a memorial service and celebration of Ed's life on June 13th, 2026, at 11:00AM at the Allegan United Methodist Church, 409 Trowbridge Street in Allegan, Michigan. A light luncheon and refreshments will follow. All are welcome. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests memorial donations be made to Folds of Honor.



Born and raised in St. John, Kansas, Ed earned his B.S. and master's degrees in chemistry at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa. There he also met and married the love of his life, Mary Jane Durkee. Ed and Mary Jane moved to the Detroit area in 1961, where he began a lifelong career in teaching with a love for chemistry, astronomy and physics. After retiring in the 1990's, the Garvin's moved to west Michigan and became active members of the Allegan community where Ed enjoyed many more years of substitute teaching.

Ed was known for his kindness, big smile, hearty laughter and warm hugs. He enjoyed many varied hobbies that included gardening, fine wine, Bridge, motorcycle trips, Abraham Lincoln, astronomy, camping, fishing and more.

The only thing Ed loved more than teaching was his family. Preceded in death by Mary Jane in 2013, he is succeeded by their three children - Kimberley Metcalf-Kupres, Robert Garvin, Kristen Wood and their families.

He is missed greatly and shall be loved always by those who knew him.

Robert A. Johnson Jr

Robert A. Johnson Jr. passed away on January 27, 2026, at the age of 86.

He is survived by his wife of twenty-two years, Liz Johnson of Hendersonville, NC; son, Mike Johnson of Washington DC; daughters, Debbie (Chris) Clancy of Ludington, MI, and Sarah French (Mike Walters) of Kalamazoo, MI; grandchildren Tori Clancy, Molly French, and Erin Clancy; great-grandchild, Robbie Bammert. Bob is proceeded in death by father, Robert A. Johnson Sr.; mother, Helen Johnson; and wife, Martha (Christy) Johnson.

Bob graduated from Otsego High School in 1957, where he played the drums and guitar, was a proud member of the Skunk Patrol with his close friends and was voted Best Dressed—an early sign of the personality, style, and confidence that stayed with him throughout his life. He graduated from Western Michigan University in 1961 which began his career as a high school history teacher in North Muskegon, MI, where he was a favorite among the students and staff. After a few short years of teaching, he was eager to move into the corporate world. He worked in Human Resources at American Motors, JI Case, Clark Equipment, and finally ended his career as the head of Human Resources Department at the Volvo (Construction Equipment) North American Headquarters in Asheville, NC.

Bob believed that the best memories were made intentionally, especially during his beloved two-week summer vacations when his children were younger, which he planned with care and enthusiasm year after year with his wife Sue. Valentine's Day vacations were a favorite surprise, revealed through cleverly written cards filled with clues about where they were going and what to pack. He delighted in creating anticipation and wonder. Later in life, Bob's children were the ones to plan yearly special vacations, which for the past few years were to Highlands, NC. The time spent together with his kids was the most precious gift to Bob.

Family was at the center of Bob's life. He rarely missed a birthday for his grandchildren, happily traveling to Michigan whenever there was something important to celebrate. His home, and especially his pool, was a gathering place full of laughter, where the grandkids loved to play when they visited, and everyone felt welcome.

Every day at precisely 3 o'clock, Bob could be found enjoying his orange cappuccino, a small ritual that brought him comfort and a burst of energy. He also enjoyed his weekly breakfasts with his friend, Fred Mehlin and he cherished the friendships he had with Denny and Pam Miller and Jim Bennett. He was a devoted fan of Michigan football, the Detroit Lions, and especially the Detroit Tigers, following his teams with loyalty and hope that never wavered. Evenings were often spent around the table playing I'll Buy It, a card game enjoyed by everyone, but especially his wife, Liz, and his sister-in-law, Gayle. Those games were filled with laughter, friendly competition, and togetherness.

As he grew older, Bob developed a fondness for antiquing and, with recent movie streaming, rediscovering many of his favorite classic movies. Though he never had pets for much of his life, he eventually found himself completely charmed by his cats, who became unexpected companions he truly loved.

Bob will be remembered for his thoughtfulness, his traditions, his sense of fun, and the deep love he had for his family. His legacy lives on in shared stories, family games, surprise trips, and the countless moments he made special simply by being himself.

A memorial visitation will be held from 4-7 PM, Friday, June 19, 2026, at Winkel Funeral Home in Otsego, Michigan, with a time of sharing starting at 6 PM. Those attending are encouraged to wear something colorful as a reflection of Bob's bright and lively spirit. Private family burial of ashes will take place at Mountain Home Cemetery in Otsego.

Contributions in memory of Bob may be directed to Blue Ridge Humane Society of Hendersonville NC. https://www.blueridgehumane.org/

Messages of condolence may be posted at www.WinkelFuneralHome.com.

Roy Lawrence James

Roy Lawrence James, 93, of Allegan, Michigan died in the home he had lived in since its purchase in 1972. In his final days, the house was full as his family and friends gathered in love to support him and each other, sharing tears but also great memories and laughter.

Roy was born on the northern shore of Lake Michigan in the company-owned logging town of Nahma, Michigan to Frank and Sarah Hattie (Sturgis) James on July 21, 1932. When the giant timber ran out and the mills fell silent, the family moved to Allegan when Roy was 9 years old. They settled near Miner Lake where he attended country school, accompanying the teacher each morning to start the fire in the woodstove before classes. He recalled memories of walking to town to enjoy a double feature at the Regent Theatre, raising chickens for 4H, and travelling to Chicago to buy a suit out of the trunk of a car to wear for his Allegan High School graduation.

Roy began his career at Blood Brothers' Universal Joint while still a senior in high school, working the overnight shift and often receiving grace from his teachers as they allowed him to nap through their classes. In 1952, he enlisted in the United States Army, entering service in Detroit, Michigan on September 3, 1952. Roy was stationed in Korea for one year, three months, and fourteen days during the war and his service was meritoriously decorated with the Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Korean Service Medal w/ two bronze stars, Republic of Korea Unit Citation, and an additional bronze star. His separation from active duty was at Fort Bliss, Texas on September 2, 1955, and final discharge to civilian life on September 2, 1960, after five years in the Michigan Army Reserve. In the Fall of 2025, he flew to Washington D.C. with fellow World War II, Korean War, and Vietnam War veterans on a Talons Out Honor Flight and was proclaimed an Ambassador of Peace by the Republic of Korea Ministry of Patriots and Veterans Affairs on November 15 at a celebration at Allegan City Hall.

By the time Roy returned from the army, Blood Brothers had become Rockwell International where he resumed his career and worked until the company halted most of its Allegan operations in 1988. His last months with the company were spent in Fairfield, Iowa training those employees who were to replace him. He was defined as a hard worker, never turning down an extra shift at the plant as well as working a second job at Nyberg Funeral Home. For 16 years in "retirement," Roy drove a van for Allegan County Community Mental Health where he was a favorite among his "Clients." In short, he did whatever he could to provide for those he loved.

Roy was soft-spoken, generous, and kind. He never spoke ill of anyone or anything unless there was cilantro involved. Yet, for a man of so few words, he was remarkably social. He was a member of the American Legion, VFW, Fraternal order of Eagles, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Moose Lodge, and seemingly the Players Club at every casino in Western Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. He was a skilled wood worker, a fiercely competitive Pepper and Marbles player, and looked forward to fishing with brother, Jimmy, and brother-in-law, Mutt, on Big Bay de Noc during summer vacations. In recent years, he took pleasure in riding his scooter around town to inspect the road projects (he was one of the first through Allegan's roundabout), stopping at "Jim's" (as he referred to both Riverside Market and Mighty Midget) for his "scratchers," playing pull-tabs at the club, and trips to the casino with "the girls." He always enjoyed attending sporting and school events, dance recitals, birthday parties, and any reason to gather with others.

In his golden years, Roy met his life partner, Barb Miller. Together they shared 26 years of love and adventure. From the Upper Peninsula of Michigan to Venice, Florida, memories were made and enjoyed with family and friends. To us she was "Grandma Barb" and her family became our family.

Surviving are his children, Diane Stockdale, Betsy (Rich) Wheeler, Richard (Yan Chen) James, Traci (Tim) Perrigo, Mike (Rosalee) Norman, Tim (Holly) Norman, Mark (Kathy) Norman, and Lisa (Jon) Boulter; his sister-in-law, Jacque James; and nineteen grandchildren, many great-grandchildren, great-great-grandchildren, nieces, and nephews.

Along with his parents, Roy is preceded in death by his siblings, Evelyn Lavigne, Florence Smith, Raymond James, Harold James, and Jimmy James. Also preceding him in death is an infant son.

The United States Army will render military honors and Roy will be enniched on Thursday, June 18, 2026, at 10:00 AM at Fort Custer National Cemetery, 15501 Dickman Road, Augusta, Michigan 49012. A Time of Fellowship will follow at the Allegan Fraternal Order of Eagles, 110 Chestnut St., Allegan, MI 49010 beginning at 12:00 PM.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to Elara Caring Hospice Foundation, who's Home Health and Hospice Care provided love and comfort to Roy and his family over the past five years.

LIVING WITH GRIEF

BY RONNIE EWING/ AFTERCARE SPECIALIST

LIVING WITH GRIEF, is a monthly column provided by Gorden Funeral Residence. Each month LIVING WITH GRIEF will feature some helpful advice as you the reader move forward through your personal grieving process, or simply want to be educated to help those whom you may know have recently experienced a loss, or traumatic event.

We just came off a series of support meetings. One dealing with the giving side of support, and the receiving side of support. Both thrive on a known fact that you cannot give what you don't have. Let me explain. The giving side to support comes from maintaining the ability to produce a compassionate and safe place for those who are grieving. And when it comes to the receiving aspect, you have to be able to drop the guard that can and will hold you back from moving forward. Often that is hard because of a small humanistic trait known as "Pride."

Pride has the ability to convince us that we can do it on our own. That it is wrong, to take a hand out. It also convinces us that everyone has an alterier motive. Now don't get me wrong. Independence is a good thing, with balance. A good ethical balance, allows the heart to heal. And walls that have been built for a sense of protection work just like that. They become a fortress of protection and not a reclusive prison. Having the ability to truly care with a pure and genuine motive provides an atmosphere for healing, and the ability to drop the shield can make all the difference in LIVING WITH GRIEF.

Township staff recommends closing compost operations

Public hearing on June 3 to address bad odors from Cocoa Corp., what to do next.

Laketown Township staff is recommending composting operations that have created foul smells in the community be shut down.

The township planning commission will have the final say after a public hearing set for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 3, 2026, at the township hall, 4338 Beeline Road.

After the public hearing, the planning commission could consider modifying the agreement, terminating it, or continuing the special land use.

Michelle Sall, Laketown Township Community Development Director, in a report to the planning commission dated May 21, 2026, recommended approval be revoked for the Cocoa Corp. composting operations within the planned unit development managed by Republic Services.

The planned unit development – a PUD – is a special set of agreements that allow a combination of buildings, open space, and activities to occur in an area where zoning might otherwise not allow the use.

Sall cited more than 150 staff hours for collecting and responding to more than 100 complaints of bad odors from March 2025 to present, the multiple efforts by Manager Stephanie Fox to resolve the complaints, and a state Department of Environment, Great Lakes, and Energy violation dated April 27, 2026. The composting activity has not been operated in a manner harmonious to the area, as required by the agreement adopted Dec. 7, 2016, she wrote.

Cocoa Corp., 4368 60th St. between the I-196 and U.S. 31 overpasses, on Friday, May 29, 2026. Photo taken from 60th Street.

Residents have been complaining for the last 2 to 3 years about increased odors from Cocoa Corp., a composting operation on Republic's property, 4368 60th St. between the I-196 and U.S. 31 overpasses.

The township has forwarded those complaints to EGLE.

The public hearing

On June 3, the chairperson of the planning commission will call the public hearing to order and ask anyone in the meeting room to come to the podium, state their name and address and speak into the microphone for up to 3 minutes about the topic. After everyone in the room has spoken, the chairperson will then ask if anyone on Zoom would like to speak.

Those on Zoom should unmute themselves or turn on their video. The chairperson will acknowledge you. State your name and address and speak for up to 3 minutes.

All comments should be addressed to the chairperson.

Email comments may be sent to office@laketowntwp.org, attention planning commission.

Written comments may be sent to Laketown Township Planning Commission, 4338 Beeline Road, Holland, MI 49423.

All correspondence must be received by 4 p.m. June 3 to be considered for the public hearing.

Faces in the Crowd

By G C Stoppel

Recently, President Trump made a settlement with the IRS to drop his multi-billion dollar lawsuit in return for something over one billion dollars to be used as reparations for the January 6th rioters. What are your thoughts?

-Man near the Blue Goose in Fennville: "Makes me sicker than pigging out at an all-you-can eat buffet. He really makes me sick. And don't forget that sweetheart deal that prevents the government from looking at his taxes."

-Woman in front of the Fennville pharmacy: "I heard about it, but that's about it. I got my hands full with enough things already. It sounds sketchy somehow. Maybe they deserve it. I don't know."

-Woman in front of the Fennville hardware store: "It's all political theater. Trump's Maga supporters think it is great; the Dems hate it. My guess is that it's going nowhere because those who hate him will go to court over it."

-Man in front of the Allegan Public Library: "They deserve it. Everyone knows that the far-left liberals and socialists stole the 2020 election. Those fellows were defending the country, and they got beat up and sent to jail for their patriotism. Fair is fair!"

-Man with him: "You're just stirring things up by asking things like that! You ought to be ashamed of yourself!"

-Couple in front of the Huntington Bank; Man: "The whole thing is so corrupt. Trump is as bad as Capone and the Mafia, except he's not holding a Tommy gun. I don't know how this country got into that situation." Woman: "Well, I blame the Congress and Senate. They go along with him. Bunch of cowards! All of them! Not one of them has the courage to stand up to him!"

-Woman, same location: "What I can't understand is how anyone agreed to it. The idea that he and his family and businesses can't ever be investigated for anything. Come off of it. I am so sick of all of them."

-Man in front of Allegan City Hall: "You know what no one's talking about? Try this one. Trump and his cronies keep buying and selling oil stocks and futures. Thousands of those trades. If you and I did something like that we'd be in jail. No wonder he made them agree not to ever investigate his business dealings. He's crooked."

-Woman near the Allegan Post Office: "I don't think he's doing anything wrong. It's the Democrats who keep stirring things up. Biden was just as bad. So were the Clintons. You don't hear anything about them, but everyone attacks our President. He's saving the country from being run over by all those 'illegals', but all people do is complain and agitate against him."

-Couple near Minnie's; Woman: "He's ruthless. I'll say that much about him. Ruthless. Trump is no good, but he knows how to run the system to get what he wants." Man: "All it's going to take is to flip the House and Senate, and he's done for."

Girl Scout Gold Award project reflects on Flag Day

By Gari Voss

Flag Day is Sunday, June 14, 2026. On this day, everyone is encouraged to reflect on the meaning of the American Flag as a symbol of our nation and the freedoms that have been fought for to keep the flag flying high. This is the anniversary of the official adoption of the American flag on June 14, 1777.

The public will have an opportunity on Saturday, June 13, 2026, to participate in a Flag Code and Conduct Workshop at the Frist Congregational Church, 323 Cutler Street in Allegan, from 11am – 1:30pm.

This Girl Scout Gold Award Project is open to all ages. All can attend this free event to take the U.S. flag protocol training on flag fundamentals, flag handling principles, proper display practices, and the key honored veterans days of service.

"To celebrate Flag Day, come and learn from local veterans about the U.S. flag code, flag handling procedures, days for veterans, and more!" encouraged Elise Wedge, host of this event. "Participate in a short service project during the event. This is in conjunction with my local Girl Scout Gold Award project: Honoring America's Flag. My project goal is to install a U.S. flag retirement site in Hopkins, MI and encourage respect in what the U.S. flag stands for. Community members of all ages are invited!"

The "Stars and Stripes" was adopted by the Continental Congress as the official American flag during the Revolutionary War. Before its adoption, the colonial troops fought under flags with symbols like rattlesnakes, pine trees and eagles. The flags often contained slogans like "Don't Tread on Me", "Liberty or Death", and "Conquer or Die".

The Flag Resolution of 1777 states, ""The flag of the United States shall be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stars of white on a blue field …"

It was not until May 30, 1916, that President Woodrow Wilson made this day an official observance with a presidential proclamation.

There is much folklore surrounding the first flag. Though Betsy Ross made many ensigns and pennants for the Philadelphia Navy, there is no definite proof that she sewed the first flag.

It is known that the original flag was to represent the original 13 colonies, thus the 13 strips alternating red and white, and 13 stars arranged in a circle on a blue field to represent that each colony was equal. In 1818, after some design changes, the decision was made to retain the 13 strips while adding a new star to reflect each new state that joined the union. This required a new configuration of stars.

The colors remained consistent: white for purity and innocence, red for valor and hardiness, and blue for vigilance, perseverance, and justice. Though the colonists wanted to remove themselves from British rule, the colors can also be found on the British flag.

Miss Wedge will complete this project by erecting a collection bos for used flas which will later be disposed of properly.

By Jason Wesseldyk

HAMILTON0—The Otsego boys track and field team saved its best performance for the biggest stage.

Behind a pair of individual state championships and two all-state relay performances, the Bulldogs scored 39 points to finish second at the Division 2 state finals Saturday.

Harper Woods claimed the team title with 47 points, while Otsego finished ahead of third-place Saginaw Swan Valley (35).

Several other area schools also were represented at the state finals. Wayland tied for 19th place with 10 points, Hamilton tied for 38th with six points and Hopkins tied for 53rd with four points. Allegan and Plainwell also had athletes compete at the meet.

Otsego's charge was led by junior Jack Cook and senior Alex Robbins, who each earned individual state championships.

Cook captured the state title in the 200-meter dash, crossing the finish line in a personal-best 21.24 seconds.

The championship marked a rewarding turnaround for Cook, who narrowly missed qualifying for the state finals in the event as a sophomore despite posting strong times throughout the season.

Cook also helped the Bulldogs earn all-state honors in a pair of relays.

He anchored Otsego's 4x200 relay team of Ezekiel Andrina, Roman Mitchell and Sam Cook to a third-place finish in 1:28.81. He also ran the anchor leg on the Bulldogs' third-place 4x400 relay team that included Andrina, Kaleb Koestner and Ty Oaks. That quartet posted a time of 3:23.74.

Robbins earned his state title in the discus, unleashing a throw of 172 feet, 9 inches. He also scored team points in the shot put, placing sixth with a toss of 54-4.25.

Oaks added four points to the Bulldogs' team total with a fifth-place finish in the 400-meter dash. The senior clocked a personal-best time of 49.42 seconds.

Other Otsego competitors included Kenny Sheffer, who placed 11th in the 3,200-meter run (9:43.68), Carson Brooks, who tied for 11th in the pole vault (13-4), and Ethan Simpson, who finished 20th in the long jump (20-9.75).

Wayland's top finish came from its 4x200 relay team, which placed fourth in 1:28.84. The quartet consisted of Henry Maass, Brock Wheeler, Luke Vande-Zande and Jake Reeder.

Reeder also earned all-state honors individually, placing sixth in the 200-meter dash with a personal-best time of 21.73 seconds. Teammate Justin Springs added a seventh-place finish in the long jump at 21-8.5.

Hamilton's Hudson Hulst earned all-state honors with a third-place finish in the 110-meter hurdles. The senior posted a personal-best time of 14.48 seconds.

Hopkins also produced an all-state performance, as Clayton Kerber placed fifth in the 300-meter hurdles with a personal-best time of 38.97 seconds. Teammate Jack Estelle narrowly missed all-state honors, finishing ninth in the 1,600-meter run with a personal-best time of 4:20.58.

Allegan was represented by Kellen Chalupa, who finished 18th in the 800-meter run in 2:01.45.

Plainwell's Sawyer Lilly placed 16th in the shot put with a throw of 49-7.5, while teammate Loehn Luckett finished 30th in the pole vault at 11-8.

Allegan tennis places third at finals to cap historic season

MIDLAND—An historic season ended with another historic accomplishment for the Allegan girls tennis team.

The Tigers finished third at the Division 4 state finals in Midland on May 27-28, completing a 22-0 season that included conference, regional and Valley Division championships while producing the program's highest state-finals finish since placing runner-up in 2013.

Allegan scored 18 points, trailing only Greenhills and Lansing Catholic.

According to Allegan coach Damien Arthur, the accomplishments went beyond championships and records.

"More than the wins, records and championships, this team represented Allegan with toughness, pride and commitment," Arthur said. "They competed for each other, handled pressure with maturity and made our school and community proud."

The state-finals appearance also marked the Tigers' second consecutive top-10 finish at the state meet, further solidifying this group as one of the most accomplished teams in program history.

The Tigers advanced two flights to the state finals, with the No. 1 doubles team of Ireland Dewey and Madison Cook and the No. 3 doubles team of Sophia Augustine and Emma Scheffler both finishing as state runners-up.

Dewey and Cook opened the tournament with a bye before defeating St. Francis 6-4, 6-1 and Bullock Creek 6-2, 6-3 to reach the semifinals. They then knocked off North-Pointe Christian 6-2, 6-3 before falling to top-seeded Greenhills 1-6, 3-6 in the championship match.

Augustine and Scheffler entered the tournament as the top seed at No. 3 doubles and advanced to the finals with victories over Everest Collegiate (6-4, 6-3), Saginaw Nouvel (6-3, 6-3) and Lansing Catholic (5-7, 6-4, 6-2). Their run ended in the title match against second-seeded Greenhills, which earned a 5-7, 6-1 victory.

Allegan also received a semifinal appearance from Ava Thompson at No. 4 singles and the No. 2 doubles team of Taylor Fuller and Hanna Kievit.

At No. 4 doubles, Kaylee Haas and Hailey Gauthier reached the quarterfinals before dropping a hard-fought three-set match to sixth-seeded Kalamazoo Christian.

Addy Fales advanced to the quarterfinals at No. 1 singles, while Camdyn Drozd at No. 2 singles and Kendall Halstead at No. 3 singles each competed at the state finals as well.

"This State Finals performance was the final chapter of one of the best seasons in program history," Arthur said.

KENT CITY — Novella DeGraaf spent much of Saturday, May 30, racing from one event to another.

By the end of the day, the Saugatuck junior had collected three All-State finishes, broken three school records and helped lead the Trailblazers to a fourth-place finish at the Division 3 state finals.

The Trailblazers scored 30 points to place fourth, marking just the sixth top-10 finish in program history.

Olivet won the girls title with 82 points, followed by Lansing Catholic (76) and Pewamo-Westphalia (61.5).

DeGraaf's performance represented one of the finest individual efforts in Saugatuck track and field history.

Competing in three events throughout the day, DeGraaf earned All-State honors in each while establishing new school records across the board.

She finished runner-up in the pole vault by clearing 10 feet, 9 inches, placed third in the long jump at 17-2 and added another third-place finish in the 100-meter hurdles with a school-record time of 14.83 seconds.

Senior Alina Martinson also delivered a strong performance for the Trailblazers.

Competing out of the slower heat of the 400-meter dash, Martinson ran a personal-best time of 59.44 seconds to place fifth overall and earn All-State honors.

Martinson later helped the Trailblazers add to their point total as a member of the All-State 4x800 relay team.

The quartet of Kamryn Sixberry, Ellyse Heyser, Lyvia Curtis and Martinson placed third in 9:51.40 to earn All-State recognition and contribute six points to Saugatuck's fourth-place team finish.

The Saugatuck boys were led by freshman Charles Robison, who earned All-State honors with a third-place finish in the 300-meter hurdles.

Robison crossed the finish line in a personal-best 39.57 seconds, establishing a new freshman school record. According to coach Rick Bauer, the mark also ranks as the third-fastest time in program history behind only former standouts Benny Diaz and current Major League Baseball player Blake Dunn.

Robison's performance accounted for all six of Saugatuck's team points as the Trailblazers tied for 37th place in the boys standings.

Fennville also was represented at the Division 3 state finals.

Junior Isabelle Sliter placed 21st in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 5:54.01 and finished 22nd in the 3,200-meter run in 13:20.66.

On the boys side, freshman Julian Weimer placed 15th in the long jump with a leap of 19 feet, 11.75 inches.

HUDSONVILLE—Veyda Conley closed out another standout track season in impressive fashion Saturday, May 30.

The Martin junior earned a pair of all-state finishes, placing third in both the 1,600-meter run and 3,200-meter run at the Division 4 State Finals. That accounted for all 12 of the Clippers' points as the team tied for 17th place in the final standings.

Conley turned in a personal-best time of 5:14.94 in the 1,600 before coming back later in the day to place third in the 3,200 with a time of 11:41.06.

She also qualified for the 800-meter run, but scratched that in order to focus on the 1,600, 3,200 and the 4x800 relay.

In the 4x800 relay, Conley joined Torryn Harris, Allison Rodgers and Sara Schipper placed 11th in 10:34.33.

The Clippers also received a strong performance from sophomore Aliyah DeGlopper, who placed ninth in the shot put with a personal-best throw of 33 feet, 11 inches.

On the boys side, freshman Seth Smit earned Martin's lone point of the meet by placing eighth in the long jump.

Smit recorded a personal-best leap of 21-2 to earn all-state honors.

The Martin boys tied for 58th place in the team standings with one point.

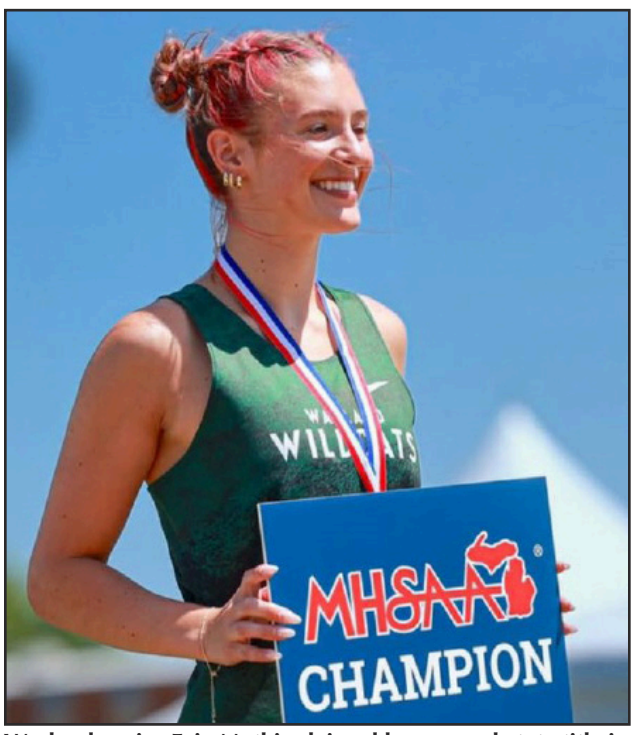
HAMILTON—When the pole vault competition came to an end at the Division 2 Girls Track & Field State Finals on Saturday, May 30, two familiar names sat atop the leaderboard.



Wayland senior Evie Mathis claimed her second state title in pole vault. (Photo provided)

Wayland's Evie Mathis claimed the state title and Allegan's Bailee Dilley finished second, giving Allegan County athletes the top two spots in the event at the Division 2 state finals.

Mathis cleared 12 feet, 3 inches to capture the championship, while Dilley finished runner-up after clearing 12-0.

Allegan posted the highest team finish among local schools, tying for 14th place with 14 points. Wayland tied for 24th with 10 points, Hopkins tied for 45th with three points and Otsego tied for 50th with two points.

The Tigers' strong finish was aided by more than Dilley's runner-up effort.

Senior Jayden VandenAkker earned all-state honors in a pair of events, placing fifth in the 100-meter hurdles in 15.02 seconds and seventh in the 300 hurdles in a season-best 46.07.

Hopkins also produced an all-state performer, as senior Riley Homrich placed sixth in the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.53 seconds.

Otsego's Madden Fitzpatrick rounded out the area's all-state efforts. The junior placed seventh in the discus with a personal-best throw of 125-1.

Several other local athletes turned in strong showings.

Hamilton senior Jenna Dozeman narrowly missed all-state honors, placing 10th in the 400-meter dash with a personal-best time of 59.68 seconds.

Otsego sophomore Alayna Verhage placed 12th in the 3,200-meter run (11:33.93) and 16th in the 1,600 (5:24.51), while teammate Addelyn Sabatke finished 14th in the 3,200 (11:36.88). Audrey Holmes placed 13th in the shot put at 35-1.25.

Plainwell's Mai Nguyen competed in both distance events, placing 15th in the 1,600-meter run (5:22.53) and 16th in the 3,200 (11:40.74).

Hopkins junior Keilah Bonga finished 12th in the discus with a throw of 115-0, while teammate Andrea Brower placed 15th in the 300 hurdles in a personal-best 47.43.

Wayland baseball wins district crown

WAYLAND—The trophies keep piling up for the Wayland baseball team.

Less than two weeks after claiming its first OK Gold Conference championship since 2001, the Wildcats added a Division 2 district title to their growing list of accomplishments Saturday, May 30.

Wayland opened the day with a 4-0 victory over South Christian in the district semifinals before knocking off Lakewood 6-2 in the championship game to secure the title.

The youthful makeup of the Wayland roster—the Wildcats, who start four junior, four sophomores and a freshman and don't have any seniors—made the accomplishment even more satisfying for coach Drew Lakatos.

"We are excited at the opportunity to extend our season and hope to represent our school and community with pride," Lakatos said.

The Wildcats leaned on strong pitching throughout the day, beginning with a dominant effort from Easton Williams in the semifinal. Williams tossed a complete-game shutout, allowing just three hits while striking out two and walking one.

Wayland managed just four hits offensively, but made them count.

Landon Atwell collected two hits and drove in three runs, while Jaxon Ritsema and Colston Lown added one hit apiece.

The Wildcats broke through with a pair of runs in the fourth inning before adding two more in the fifth to pull away.

The championship game against Lakewood proved to be more of a grind.

Wayland was limited to six hits and left 11 runners on base, but timely hitting and another strong performance on the mound helped the Wildcats complete the sweep.

"The game against Lakewood was a game of missed opportunities," Lakatos said. "We only had six hits, but benefited from three hit batters and six walks.

"We stranded 11 runners on the day and relied on great pitching efforts from Will Lodenstein and Hoyt Borgic. We were fortunate to get timely hitting and great pitching."

Lodenstein worked the first 4.2 innings, allowing two runs—neither of them earned—on just three hits while striking out six and issuing no walks.

Borgic took over from there and slammed the door, tossing the final 2.1 innings without allowing a hit while striking out three and walking none.

Freshman Colston Lown led the offense with two hits, while Lodenstein, Borgic and Cam Weber each added singles. Ty Ford contributed an RBI double.

Wayland built a 2-0 lead in the second inning before Lakewood knotted the score at 2-2 in the top of the fifth. But the Wildcats answered with a run in the bottom of the frame and tacked on three insurance runs an inning later to secure the win.

Saugatuck baseball dominates at districts

BLOOMINGDALE—The Saugatuck baseball team left little doubt about who deserved to hoist the Division 3 district championship trophy Saturday.

The Trailblazers outscored its two opponents by a combined score of 27-1, overwhelming Black River 16-1 in the title game after rolling past Bloomingdale 11-0 in the semis.

The Black River game was stopped after the third inning due to the mercy rule, while the Bloomingdale game was stopped after the fifth inning.

For first-year coach Jaden Grigg, the championship was especially meaningful because of what it represented for a group of players that has experienced plenty of change throughout their high school careers.

"The players earned it, especially the upperclassmen, who have gone through so many coaching changes in their careers," Grigg said. "The seniors have had three coaches in four years, and the junior class has had a different coach every season they've played high school baseball.

"Being able to persevere and get to this point is a testament to their resiliency, not only on the field, but off it as well."

The Trailblazers wasted little time asserting themselves in the championship game against Black River.

Saugatuck erupted for 11 runs in the first inning and never looked back, ending the contest after three innings via the mercy rule.

Jack Drummond led the offensive attack by going 4-for-4 with three runs scored and four RBI. Nolan LaLonde finished with three hits, two runs and two RBI, while Braison Jones added two hits, three runs and three RBI.

LaLonde homered, while Jones and Drummond each collected a triple. Drummond also had a double.

Holden Burd earned the victory on the mound, allowing three hits and one unearned run while striking out eight over three innings.

In the Bloomingdale game, Burd, Drummond and Nolan LaLonde each drove in multiple runs. LaLonde finished with two hits and three RBIs, while Drummond added a two-run homer.

Sam Bos scored twice and drove in a run, while Evan Kothman and Oliver Hosier each contributed a hit and an RBI.

Jones tossed a two-hit shutout, striking out six and not issuing a walk in five innings of work.

The Trailblazers were also aggressive on the bases, stealing 17 bases across the two games.

Martin baseball secures first district title in two decades

By Jason Wesseldyk

VERMONTVILLE—When Martin baseball coach Brad Blauvelt took over the program four years ago, one of the goals was to make Clippers baseball relevant again.

On Saturday, that vision reached another milestone.

Powered by a veteran group that has helped lead the program's resurgence, Martin captured its first district championship since 2006 with a 6-1 victory over Maple Valley in the Division 4 district finals.

Earlier in the day, the Clippers opened tournament play with a 15-0 victory over Bellevue.

"It means a lot," Blauvelt said. "We've been knocking on the door of a district championship for the past couple years. We finally made that a reality."

The championship game against Maple Valley was far more competitive than the semifinal, but the Clippers delivered when it mattered most.

Martin broke things open in the fifth inning. That's when Haylen Buell drew a bases-loaded walk to force home a run before Peyton Schuring-Harris followed with an RBI single that pushed the Clippers' lead to 4-1.

That proved more than enough support for a pitching staff that shut down Maple Valley's offense.

Buell was dominant in relief, allowing just three hits over 5.2 scoreless innings while striking out six and walking one.

Martin also turned a double play behind its pitchers.

At the plate, Schuring-Harris drove in three runs and finished with two hits. Jace Brinkhuis also collected two hits as the Clippers did the little things necessary to secure the championship.

"It also helps when you have Haylen Buell on your team," Blauvelt said. "He is very special. Glad we earned a few more days of practice and another game."

The Clippers advanced to the finals with a dominant performance against Bellevue.

Martin scored three runs in the first inning, added five more in the second and broke the game open with seven runs in the third.

Brinkhuis led the offensive attack with three hits, while Buell went 2-for-4 and drove in three runs.

Zaiden Buell handled the work on the mound, tossing three hitless innings. He struck out three and walked one as Bellevue struggled to generate any offense.

The Clippers will face Hacket in a regional semifinal on Wednesday, June 3, at Decatur.

Hopkins upends Allegan for first district crown

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

SOUTH HAVEN—For 40 years, the Hopkins girls soccer program had never won a district championship.

On Friday, May 29, the Vikings finally crossed that milestone off the list. And they did it against the same team that broke their hearts a year ago.

Hopkins rallied with two goals in the final two minutes to stun Allegan 2-1 in a Division 3 district championship game at South Haven, earning the program's first district title and reversing the outcome of last season's district final, which Allegan won in a shootout.

Trailing 1-0 with less than two minutes remaining, the Vikings appeared headed for another disappointing finish despite controlling play for much of the evening.

Instead, they found a way.

Freshman Claire Brenner tied the game with 1:59 remaining when her corner kick found its way into the net, knotting the score at 1-1.

Just over a minute later, Ali Langlois weaved through traffic and fired a shot into the lower-right corner of the goal with 45 seconds left, giving Hopkins its first lead of the night and sending the Vikings into celebration mode.

"It's everything to the program," Hopkins coach John Mieras said of the title. "I've been here four years, and these seniors have started every game for me. I wanted this for them more than anything. Their work ethic and attitude have been incredible."

The dramatic finish came after a match that seemed determined to frustrate the Vikings.

Hopkins controlled possession for long stretches and outshot Allegan 40-7, but could not find a way past Allegan goalkeeper Mya Corbett for most of the contest.

Allegan's lone goal came in the first half, and despite Hopkins' relentless pressure, that advantage held into the closing minutes.

"You've got to have faith and hope they're going to follow through," Mieras said of his team's late push. "We had so many shots and were missing in so many different ways. There comes a point where you start wondering if it's going to happen. But the girls kept believing."

The equalizer brought back memories of last year's district final.

Ironically, Hopkins also scored off a corner kick late in that match to force extra time before eventually falling in a shootout.

"This year, the corner kick tied it again," Mieras said. "Fortunately, we got the second one quickly and didn't have to go that direction."

While Hopkins celebrated the historic victory, Mieras was quick to credit Allegan and coach Stu McLean for the challenge they presented.

"We played them earlier in the season and I thought they looked much more composed and faster this time around," Mieras said. "(Allegan coach) Stu (McLean) does a remarkable job with that group.

"They lost a lot of seniors last year, and for them to come back and have that kind of effort, you've got to commend Stu and the Allegan girls. And Corbett was amazing in goal for them."

Trailblazers win district in shootout

By Jason Wesseldyk

SAUGATUCK—If the Saugatuck girls soccer team was going to win a district championship, it was only fitting that it happened the hard way.

After battling Black River to a 1-1 draw through regulation and two overtime periods, the Trailblazers survived six rounds of a shootout before freshman Charlee Gustafson delivered the winning penalty kick in a dramatic 2-1 victory Friday, May 29, in the Division 4 district semifinals.

The win secured a district title for Saugatuck, which avenged a 4-1 loss to Black River earlier this season and earned its second straight shootout victory after defeating Zion Christian earlier in the week.

"It couldn't have happened any other way," Saugatuck coach Neal Phillips said. "It had to go to a shootout and then into extra shooters. That's kind of our way—grinding until the last second and making it as nerve-racking as possible. But I think that's what made it so great.

"I think beating the team that whooped us so hard earlier in the season and getting two shootout wins when we hadn't played a shootout all year long is surreal."

The championship run came during a season in which the Trailblazers entered with fewer expectations than some of their recent teams.

Saugatuck graduated several key players from previous squads and experienced its share of ups and downs during the regular season.

"People kind of forgot about us a little bit," Phillips said. "We've had high expectations the last few years, and this was kind of the first year we didn't have those expectations on us. That makes it even more special.

"I'm really proud of what we've built and how the girls responded after some tough losses during the season."

Black River struck first Friday, taking a 1-0 lead early in the opening half.

The Trailblazers answered with just under 14 minutes remaining before halftime when senior Neave Rewa bent a corner kick into the net to even the score at 1-1.

The goal was another memorable moment for Rewa, who already owns Saugatuck's single-season and career scoring records.

"Oh yeah, that was kind of crazy," Rewa said of the goal. "Avery (Smith) had the ball up and we earned a corner. I curved it in and it went in. That was a pretty fun moment."

Neither team could find another goal the rest of regulation.

The deadlock continued through both 10-minute overtime periods, sending the match to a shootout.

After five rounds, the score remained tied at 3-3.

Black River missed its attempt in the sixth round, opening the door for Saugatuck.

Gustafson stepped to the spot and calmly chipped her shot into the corner as the goalkeeper dove the opposite direction, touching off a celebration on the Trailblazer sideline.

Black River generated some dangerous chances, but Saugatuck's back line repeatedly turned them away.

"I'm so proud of them," Phillips said. "We had a senior back there, two freshmen on the back line, and after that early mistake they completely locked things down."

Bulldogs top Trojans in district final

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

SOUTH HAVEN—A month ago, a district championship seemed a long way off for the Otsego baseball team.

After opening the season with 12 consecutive losses and dropping 15 of its first 16 games, the Bulldogs found themselves searching for answers.

On Saturday, May 30, they found themselves celebrating.

Otsego continued its remarkable turnaround by defeating archrival Plainwell 4-1 in a Division 2 district championship game after opening the day with a 10-2 victory over Allegan in the semifinals.

The district title capped a remarkable stretch for the Bulldogs, who have gone 12-4 since their difficult start and enter regional play riding a five-game winning streak.

"We had a really difficult late March and April," coach Matt Eldred said. "Played some really good teams, but also weren't playing very well. We found ourselves out of the conference race in late April.

"We built everything around the district on May 30 at that point."

Eldred said assistant coach Ryan Meert introduced a daily "one thing" routine designed to keep the team focused on incremental improvement.

"Very proud of how our guys responded," Eldred said. "We had a very good May which culminated with the district championship."

The Bulldogs relied on a dominant pitching performance from Kaleb Hildebrand in the championship game against Plainwell.

Facing a Trojan team that had swept a Wolverine Conference doubleheader from Otsego earlier this season, Hildebrand delivered what Eldred called his best outing of the year.

The right-hander tossed a complete game, scattering nine hits while allowing just one run. He struck out six and did not issue a walk in the 79-pitch effort.

Otsego scored twice in the second inning and added two more in the fourth to build a 4-1 lead.

Dillon Campbell scored twice and doubled, while Nate Maisel added two hits and scored two runs. Merrill Bailey and Landon Wrobleski each drove in a run, while Brennan Perry and Reid Anderson contributed sacrifice flies.

Plainwell managed nine hits, including a four-hit performance from Andrew Hampton and two hits from Luke Filkins, but the Trojans were unable to generate sustained offense.

One defensive play in particular stood out to Eldred.

After Hampton singled and advanced when the ball skipped past the outfielder, Bailey quickly recovered and fired a strike to Perry, who relayed the ball to Maisel for a tag at third base.

"The play was a great example of competitive greatness," Eldred said. "Quickly moving from one play to the next. It definitely kept the momentum on our side."

Earlier in the day, the Bulldogs opened district play with a convincing victory over Allegan.

Matthew Jackson set the tone on the mound, allowing six hits and one earned run while striking out seven over 6.1 innings. Anderson recorded the final two outs.

"The starting pitchers really did their job at a high level," Eldred said. "Matthew threw a lot of strikes and we provided him with a lot of run support."

Otsego pounded out 15 hits in the semifinal victory.

Campbell went 3-for-4 with two runs scored and an RBI, while Perry, Nolan Whitmore, Jaxon Ray, Hildebrand and Nate Maisel each collected two hits.

Wayland softball earns program's 29th district title

By Jason Wesseldyk

WAYLAND—It might not be quite as certain as death and taxes.

But the Wayland softball team winning a district title under the direction of longtime coach Cheri Ritz has been a regular occurrence for more than three decades.

The Wildcats added other district championship to that list on Saturday, May 30, beating Hopkins 11-0 in the finals after besting South Christian 16-6 in the semis earlier in the day.

Wayland wasted little time taking control against Hopkins.

Mackenzie Kositzky sparked the offense with a two-run double in the first inning, giving the Wildcats an early lead. Wayland added three more runs in the second inning, getting a sacrifice fly from Kaylee Lown (which scored two runs) and an RBI double from Clara Dutkiewicz.

A walk by Madison Jordan pushed the lead to 6-0 in the third inning, and the Wildcats continued to add on from there.

Kositzky was equally effective in the circle, tossing a five-inning shutout. She allowed just two hits while striking out four and walking one.

Wayland finished with 12 hits in the championship game. Kositzky and Hannah Hoevenaar led the way with three hits apiece, while Kositzky, Lown, Dutkiewicz and Rae Stallard each drove in two runs.

The Wildcats also showed patience at the plate, drawing eight walks.

Hopkins managed hits from Madi Veldheer and Jorja Wood.

Earlier in the day, Wayland had to overcome an early deficit against South Christian.

The Sailors erased a 3-0 first-inning deficit and grabbed a 4-3 lead in the second before Wayland answered with two runs in the bottom of the inning to move back in front.

After South Christian tied the game at 5-5 in the third, the Wildcats broke things open with an eight-run inning highlighted by a two-run single from Stallard.

Stallard finished with five RBIs, collecting a single and a double. Madi Ludema also played a key role, driving in two runs and scoring twice.

Wayland pounded out 14 hits in the semifinal victory. Stallard, Lown, Dutkiewicz, Ludema, Kositzky and Shelby VanHouten all recorded two hits.

Ludema earned the win in the circle, allowing six runs on eight hits while striking out three over five innings.

The Wildcats also took advantage of six walks, stole six bases and played error-free defense.

With the district title secured, Wayland (29-10) advanced to regional play against host Unity Christian (30-9) at noon on Saturday, June 6. The winner will play either Grand Rapids Christian or Portland in the regional title game.

NOTICE TO ALL TAXING JURISDICTIONS
THE City Commission of the City of Fennville PROPOSES TO APPROVE A BROWNFIELD PLAN FOR THE Cider Cove Development Project PROPERTY LOCATED AT Parcel #52-032-006-01, MICHIGAN PRESENTLY KNOWN AS 612 Glenview Dr.

The City Commission of Fennville has established a Brownfield Redevelopment Authority (the "Authority") in accordance with the Brownfield Redevelopment Act, Act 381 Public Acts of the State of Michigan of 1996, as amended (the "Act").

The Act provides a means for local units of government to facilitate the revitalization of environmentally distressed, functionally obsolete and/or blighted areas. The Authority has prepared and adopted a Brownfield Plan for redevelopment of the Cider Cove Development Project property located at Parcel #52-032-006-01 at 612 Glenview Dr. at Fennville, Michigan. The proposed reuse for this property is housing. The property is contaminated with hazardous substances under environmental laws and regulations, and/or was determined by an assessor to be functionally obsolete or blighted. This document is notification to local taxing units of the Brownfield Plan for the noted property, and of the City of Fennville's intent to approve the Brownfield Plan.

The Act permits the Authority to use tax increment financing for redevelopment projects included in a Brownfield Plan. Tax increment financing allows the Authority to capture tax revenues attributable to increases in the taxable value of real and personal property located on the "eligible property," which may include adjacent or contiguous parcels. Increases in taxable value may be attributable to various factors, including remediation, new construction, rehabilitation, remodeling, alterations, additions, and installation of personal property on the contaminated, functionally obsolete or blighted property.

The plan will be adopted at the June 15th meeting of the City Commission held at 6 p.m. at Fennville City Hall, 125 S. Maple St. Fennville, MI. If you have any questions or comments concerning the Brownfield Redevelopment Authority you may attend the meeting and express those concerns during the public comment period. You may also direct inquires to the City Administrator's office at Fennville City Hall.

Peek at the Past

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

May 31, 1951

Groom spends time squaring $5 gas bill for fifteen bucks: The honeymoon was over—or of at least badly interrupted Monday for Elmer Grover, 20, Kalamazoo.

For Grover spent most of the day squaring himself with Allegan officers and paying $15 for $5 worth of gas.

Grover actually was arrested Saturday, but kind-hearted officers, learning he had just been married that afternoon, let him go for the weekend.

In Judge Ervin Andrews municipal court Monday, Grover pleaded guilty to obtaining gasoline under false pretenses.

Chief of Police Howard Falk said Grover had twice charged gasoline to Allen Barber, Allegan, whom Grover said "he had heard of."

Judge Andrews ordered him to pay up the gas bills, around $5, apologize to the station owners and Barber, and then come back and pay a $10 fine.

The gasoline dealers said Grover had driven up in a nearly new car in April, charged the fuel to Barber and signed the name Jack James. Police have been looking for him ever since Barber received his bills, and declared Jack James was a total stranger.

History Class looks to national contest: Members of the Allegan Woman's History Class who attended the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs annual convention in Grand Rapids May 11-13 left the two-day event with a feeling of great accomplishment.

In addition to other awards, the Allegan club won the coveted first place Michigan General Federation of Women's Clubs-Shell Oil Company award in recognition of its contribution to environmental improvement.

To win the award, the conservation committee of the 100-year-old organization headed by Mrs. Fern Nahikian and Mrs. Gladys Mosier, conducted several planning meetings to discuss the beautification needs of the Allegan community.

THEIR INITIAL project was to improve the historical Toll Gate Marker site located at the corner of Marshall Street and Bridge Road where they weeded, spread top dirt, and planted 1,300 ajuga ground cover plants, a variety of seasonal plants, two Red Bud trees, and a dogwood tree.

They have maintained the site and plan to plant 400 red, white, and blue petunias next week.

RELIGION SECTION

Sometimes, it is just too easy to yield to the temptation of talking about 'pure' Christianity in the early church. Even a quick reading of the first sixteen verses of the fourth chapter of St Paul's letter to the Ephesians puts a quick end to that. Within just a few years after the ascension of Jesus, the churches were badly divided over many important beliefs. In this passage, the topic is the doctrine of the ascension.

This collision of beliefs was just beginning. It would continue to build for the next several centuries until it was supposedly resolved at the Council of Nicaea in 325 AD. By then, the church was so divided over so many topics, Constantine the emperor of the Roman Empire, had grown weary of it. He chose to take strong action by calling all of the bishops from as far away as England to North Africa to the Middle East to meet in Nicaea, now part of Turkey.

This meeting can be compared to the major organized crime families having a "sit down" to resolve differences without resorting to gun fire.

Constantine announced that as the emperor, he would give the opening speech at the Council. In it, he laid down the law. Henceforth, the Christian Church would be the religious branch or spiritual arm, of the empire. The government would pay the expenses of the church, and in return, the church would be subservient to the emperor. To insure its compliance, the bishop of Rome, who for years had served as something of a general secretary, would be the spiritual head, Pope, of the church. Furthermore, the Pope would reside in Rome, the better to keep him under the watchful eye of the emperor and his army.

If this was Constantine's best effort to stop discussion and dissention within the Church, it failed. The battles between orthodoxy and heresy continued, and continue to be expressed today.

The only thing all of the debaters share in common is a passionate desire to worship, honor, and serve God. Individually, they also shared in common a belief that they alone knew what Jesus wanted. Sometimes, that got out of hand.

In 16th Century Russia, there was a conflict of doctrines on whether or not bishops were to use two fingers or three fingers of their right hand when blessing the congregation. In the end, a brutal war broke out that sent the Old Believers hurrying to the relative safety of the Ural Mountains.

Do you and I believe that Jesus is passionately concerned about the number of digits, or about how we love and care for Him and for our brothers and sisters?

I believe the world and Christianity would be far better off with less doctrine and more practical, practicing care for God and all of God's people. Jesus gave us the Two Great Commandments: Love God with all you've got; love your neighbor as yourself. Fulfilling those commandments will keep us sufficiently busy for the rest of our lives. We don't need to get into useless arguments.
